Intern
Noida

Description :

Overall purpose of role

The interns will conduct research and development in one or more stages of e-trading activities such as development of signals, trading strategies, pricing, hedging and portfolio management activities, and pre/post trade analytics. Ultimately the purpose is to create the best in class business logic and models for our electronic liquidity offering to clients and the associated analytics. This would involve the full chain from defining the problem, metrics to quantify the solutions, hypothesizing solutions, testing and validation, implementation, documentation, and productionisation.
